Dear Spencer:

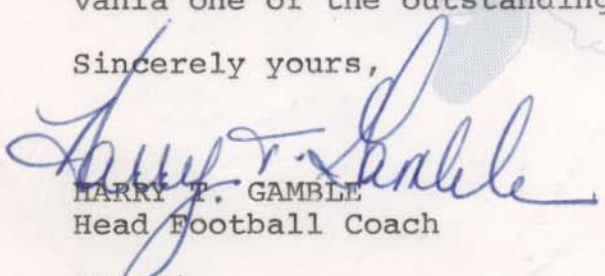

You have been recommended to us as a young man of worthy academic and athletic achievement. The University of Pennsylvania is always interested in men of your calibre. Therefore, I am enclosing a Personal Inventory Form, which should be filled out and returned at your earliest convenience.

Pennsylvania is one of the finest universities in the United States with an undergraduate enrollment of approximately 7,000 students. Degree programs are offered in the arts, sciences, engineering and the Wharton School of Business.

We offer to athletes the excellent combination of a quality education and a challenging football program. As a member of the Ivy League, we compete against Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton, and Yale.

As soon as you return the enclosed form we will send you additional information concerning the academic and athletic programs of our school, its admission and financial aid policies. If you have not already done so, make arrangements for a visit to the campus which will enable you to get a more complete picture of the many factors that make the University of Pennsylvania one of the outstanding universities in America.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Spencer:

It was our pleasure to have you with us for a brief visit this past week.

We hope you enjoyed your stay with us and were favorably impressed.

We feel Pennsylvania offers an exceptional opportunity for the man interested in a balanced program of athletics and academics.

Our entire athletic program reflects a forward attitude; we want you to share this experience with us.

Sincerely,

Harry Gamble
